Statment

I am a London-based photographer specializing in project, documentary, and performance photography. My work explores how our daily lives connect with the subconscious and dreams, revealing the inseparability of reality and fiction. For me, photography is about capturing what is personal and sincere, creating visual stories that resonate with authenticity and individuality.

My background in the documentary and experimental filmmaking industry, which means I like to work with people and I have an ability to showcase results in sequences and diversity.

In a world often marked by uniformity and indifference, I value reflecting the essence and individuality of every project. I immerse myself in the creative process, attending rehearsals and experimenting with rare lenses, hand-printing, and various photographic techniques to capture the unique atmosphere and soul of each moment.

Publications/clients

Hunch Theatre, Stone Nest theatre platform, Cult Lab, Time Out, Zima Magazine, BBC, Afisha London, Sobaka, Variety, Morbid books, Shutter box hub year book

Selected awards

1st place in Zima Photo Competition, London.
Julia Margaret Cameron Awards - winner in professional category
